CFI Report:

Michael Cuerden reminded members of the MAAA Instructors revalidation course held at the field on Sunday 14th March commencing 9am.

Michael also raised the importance of following the safety rules and pointed out that we are all safety officers and to look after one another.

General Business:

Chairman Peter Baldrey spoke at length over the recent incident of an electric model being armed in the pits and starting accidentally and inflicting serious damage to the owner's hand. Peter also stressed the importance of following club rules as they are there for everyone's benefit.

Members are asking to be allowed to use the SafeWA app along side the Contact Register required by law during the Covid-19 restrictions. The Committee believes the Contact Register gives them the best way of checking if all members are signing in on any given day and those who may forget. The Committee will review this matter after the March 15 Govt Covid update.

WAMASC First Aid officer John Kress reported that two complete First Aid Kits are missing which made it difficult in attending to the injuries resulting from the recent incidence in the pits.

Because of the above report and general small pilfering WAMASC is investigating the prospect of upgrading the security system.
